Scripture Reflection – 3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

He has anointed me. (Luke 4:18)

Often, when we read the Scripture, we see an immediate meaning and a long-term meaning. Take today's Gospel, where Jesus proclaims that the Spirit of the Lord has anointed him to bring good news.

In the immediate sense, we know that Jesus really was anointed by the Holy Spirit when he was baptized by John in the Jordan River. But in the long-term sense, Jesus wants us to know that the same Spirit has anointed us as well.

When Jesus gave us the Great Commandment – to love God and to love one another – he was telling us to follow his example. He was telling us to go and set people free. He was urging us to hear and respond to the cry of the poor. He was asking us to be as concerned with people who are in need as we are with our relationship with him.

Ever since that time, Christians have held a special place in their hearts for the poor, the marginalized, the sick, prisoners, and the unborn. Shelters for the homeless, soup kitchens, prison ministries and the protection for those who cannot protect themselves are woven into the heart of the Church's mission.

There are so many Christian organisations working to erase poverty, to improve education, to raise living standards, and to bring medical help to those who need it. But the cry of the poor still calls out to us. There are still homeless people living in tents and under bridges. There are still entire population suffering from famine. There are still countless people dying from treatable diseases. And Jesus is still urging us to do whatever we can to help them.

The challenge can seem overwhelming. Nonetheless, if each one of us could add an hour or two every month to answer the Lord's call, that would mean an increase of thousands of hours. Imagine the joy it would give Jesus to see all his people taking their spiritual anointing seriously and labouring to set people free!

the WORD among us – Jan 2019

“Here I am, Lord. You have anointed me, and I want to serve.”

“In the Sacraments, it is God himself who comes to annihilate our enemy. The Devil, seeing him in our heart, throws himself despairingly into the bottomless pit; which explains why he does all he can to draw us away from them, or make us receive them badly.”

St. John Vianney

Development and Peace

In 2001, following the invasions of Iraq and Afghanistan, Development and Peace expanded its program to the Middle East. The participation of the most marginalised people, including women, was encouraged. In Afghanistan, the main objective of our program is to support citizen participation in the development of this fledgling democracy, improve the living conditions of women and promote peace at all levels of society.
