Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

“Take heart, it is I; do not be afraid” Matthew 14.22-33

This gospel passage that we've just heard may be among the most haunting in all of scripture. It has a lot to say about fear, about faith, about trust — about daring to do the impossible.

Faced with a storm, and a vision of something that was incredible, Peter didn't cower. He didn't hide. He did just the opposite – something seemingly counter-intuitive. He asked Christ to summon him. “Come”, Jesus said.

And so Peter, full of trust and obedience and courage, got out of the boat.

For a few moments, he did something he didn't think possible, until he lost heart and began to doubt. And he began to sink. Jesus, as He always does, reached out to rescue him. Christ understood that what He was asking of Peter was challenging. But He was there for him. And He is there for us, in all our uncertainties and doubts, through all our storms.

Deacon Gregg Kandra

“The saints had no hatred, no bitterness; they forgive everything and think they deserve much more for their offences against God.”

St. John Vianney

Two little boys were known troublemakers, stealing everything they could get their hands, even from the church. One day a priest stopped one of the boys and asked, "Where is God?" The boy shrugged and the priest repeated, "Where is God?" The boy ran out of the cathedral crying to his home where he hid in a closet. Eventually his brother found him and asked, "What's wrong?" The crying boy replied, "We're in trouble now! God is missing and they think we took him!"
